It was not until this afternoon that the defalcation. There was a rumor that he left the town on the day that the dinner invitations were canceled, and that he took a steamer for South America. This uld not be corroborated. Late this afternoon Mrs. Alvord, wife of the missing note teller, was seen at the Mount Vernon home. She was weeping bitterly, and would not talk about the case. The family consisted of Mr. and Mrs. Alvord and two girls and a boy. They kept four or five servants. Mrs. Alvord is said to have told friends that, owing to his position in the bank, Mr. Alvord was able to btain tips which enabled him to make $40,000 to $50,000 a year over his salary by operating in Wall street. She is said to have boasted that her husband's tips were go straight that he never lost a cent in the street and always made a gain. Alvord had been with the bank for twenty years. THE BANK IS SOLID.

The First National Bank is considered one of the strong financial institutions of the city. George F. Baker, its president, is also president of the Clearing House. William B. Reed is the cashier. The directors are George F. Baker, Fisher A. Baker, William B. Reed, Harry C. Fahnestock, William Fahnestock, F. L. Hine and James A. Garland. The First National Bank was the first to organize under the national bank act, and President Baker and his associates have been in charge for fifteen years. It was founded by Jacob son, who was publisher of the Bank Note Detector. President Baker and Director Fahnestock are among the directors of the Central Railway of New Jersey.

The bank is located at No. 2 Wall street. A statement made by the bank of Sept. 5 showed: Capital, $500,000; surplus, $5,000,000; undivided profits, $4,114,250; deposits, $39,997,095; demand loans and cash on hand, $23,379,276; time loans, $5,654,610, and stocks and bonds, $20,110,409. In this statement the bank's total resources were placed at $52,663,294.

Beyond the facts contained in the of-Frank L. Hine, absolutely refused to say a word. President George F. Baker, when asked regarding the matter, said that the statement given out by the vice president contained all he had to say in regard to the defalcation. When asked if Alvord had een apprehended the vice president sald: "I don't think he has."

At the local office of the detective agency which usually has charge of bank cases, it was said that officials of that company had heard nothing of the defalcation as yet, and that they had not at that time Bankers' Association.

WILL RECOVER PART OF LOSS. Fisher A. Baker, attorney for the First National Bank, said to-night: "We have attach it immediately. I think this will bring the loss of the bank down close to $500,000. We are trying to locate Alvord

President Baker said: "We were greatly surprised at this defalcation, for of course we had the greatest confidence in extravagant way of living had attracted general attention there. We understood he was able to live in good style. What his salary was I do not care to state, out it was a generous one-ampie to afford him the luxuries of life. I shall add nothing to the statement Mr. Hine has given

An official connected with the bank, who lid not wish his name used, said: "A proof that the bank is not likely to suffer by the defalcation is that its profits for the year ending last Sept. 1 were $1,350,600. The surplus is increasing fast. The par value of the stock is $100 a share, but it has brought as high as $1,923 at auction. The book value of its stock is $3,105 per share, and as high as $3,600 has been bid. The percentage of ncrease to capital, according to its last year's earnings, is 270.12 per cent. It has or several years paid annual dividends of 100 per cent. Only one other bank in this city declared dividends aggregating 150 per cent. The First National Bank holds in stocks, bonds and other securities, according to its latest report, $24,073,910."

WHAT THE "BOOKIES" SAY. Bookmakers to-night talked of nothing the story of the defalcation. Every bookmaker at the Saratoga race track For them his nod was sufficient of thousands and never during did they have to wait for the of his wagers. Alvord's great build made him a marked figure on the race track and at the Saratoga Club. Though "Dick" Canfield says he never saw him and does not know him, many men who played roulette or faro remember and played to the limit and almost invariably lost without the slightest show

"He always bet me cash," said Sam Frank, a Saratoga bookmaker, "so I never tnew much about him. I never paid him a bet for he never won one. He was the best loser I ever saw and would come around chipper the next day and bet again. He could have all the credit he wanted, but he never bet more than $100 on a race and always handed out the money." "He drove the finest trotters in Sarasaid another bookmaker, "and emed to like the attention he attracted.

He did not seem to care for women, and 1,500 on a race and his nod was as good

President McKinley Arrives There, to Stay Until the Election Is Over.

CANTON, O., Oct. 23.-President and Mrs. McKinley reached Canton at 16:30 o'clock to-day, coming in a private car attached to the regular Pennsylvania train. A large number of people assembled on the station platform and bid them hearty welcome as they passed under a large flag, draped over a section of the platform. Their carriage was in waiting for them and they were driven direct to their home. Accompanying the President and Mrs. Mc-Kinley were Secretary to the President Cortelyou, Dr. Rixey, the stenographers and clerks from the executive office and the members of the domestic household, who were here during the summer months The President and Mrs. McKinley expect to remain here until election day, except that the President, according to present plans, will go to Mansfield to attend the funeral of former Secretary of State Sher-

President and Mrs. McKinley found everything in readiness for their comfort when they arrived, and were soon settled down to the mode of life they so much enjoyed here during the summer months.
